

Video Programming Costs By Distributor

Did you know that ninety-one cents of every video revenue dollar goes to pay programming costs? Believe it. This leaves nine cents to go toward operational expenditures such as salaries, equipment, maintenance, capital expenditures, fuel, etc. To find out more about our efforts to keep costs down, plus a wealth of info regarding local retransmission and cable programming, click here.